THE WORM OF THE HEART.
BY A. AMES EMBURY.
There is a little silver worm
With teeth of finest gold,
That dwells in the human breast,
And it is called the Worm of the Heart.
It is the most deadly of all worms,
And it is the most common.
It is the most deadly of all worms,
And it is the most common.
It is the most deadly of all worms,

Forty Cords of Pork.

Forty Cords of Cord is certainly a large quantity—it is seldom that such a large lot is seen any where. It was at the present time very much in demand. It is in this respect by calling at Mr. T. C. McKenna's establishment in this town—

Was there saw one day this week, no less than forty cords of cord, on the shoulders, and on the back, piled up in regular rows, like corn, wood, and manure! And we were to say, without any fear of contradiction, that no other man in Western Canada has so much cord and such a quantity this season. It is difficult for us to conceive that such a quantity has been purchased in Dundas, by one buyer, but yet it is a fact.

Mr. McKenna has this week shipped five cords of hams and shoulders, and four tons of lard to England, and will ship more of the sort. It is now on hand, ready for to cut all the pork into hams, shoulders and more; the pork is shipped to Montreal for consumption by the Ottawa and other lumberers, and the hams and shoulders are forwarded to the English market. Too much credit cannot be given to Mr. McKenzie for the enterprising spirit he has manifested, and he has this season purchased nearly double the quantity he did last season. We hope that next year we will go on increasing his purchases, with profit to himself and benefit to the town. We beg leave to remark, to any of our contemporaries who see fit to copy this paragraph, that we hope they will not allow (as some of them did last year) credit to be given to Barry for a (128 feet square the cord) it is the actual measurement.—Dundas Banner.

The Celebrated Power—who did up the little speculation, in partnership with Hinks, whereby the City of Toronto was saved out of some fifty thousand dollars—has been recently elected Mayor again, in honor, no doubt, of his clever attempt to make hay while the sun was shining. Of course the Courts here and in England, have decided that Mr. Power must disgorge his share of the speculation; but now, since the people of Toronto have again taken him into their confidence, the City should pay back the twenty thousand dollars to their new Mayor.

There is much fuss made about what the City of Toronto has gone and did—but it is all in natural order. The illegality of getting in no reason why a man should not

And, out of mere form to satisfy the law, he must receive the money back. Our Chief Superintendent of Education—did he not get hold of all those thousand dollars that belonged properly to the people of the Province! True, it was declared, by the Attorney General, to be illegally obtained and the Rev. gentleman had to pay it back; but it was all a mere matter of form—the money was returned to the man who guides the education of the Province. The Bowers should be elected, Mayor of Toronto for life, or doing good behavior I—and receive back the money the City made him disgorge, with a polite apology for ever mentioning the matter!

Furthermore (it should be published in all places) where commercial education is given—that if you learn to get money cleverly not place the Common Law of England into force for this country—its morality is too severe; in fact for the sake of Mayor Howes and the Chief Superintendent, when the City of Toronto pays back the twenty thousand dollars it has just received from the Common Law will be buried—at Osgoode Hall—and the Normal School. It is a very well to talk a severe morality and make it into Common Law, when the law makers and moralists have more money than when they have not, and so the lawmen who guide the moral destinies of a people are short of cash, and cash is necessary to respectability—money must be and by hook or by crook. If you have not enough to live on, then where the Common Law ends—and the State begins, there the Common Law will either rule or are to the Ex-the French Canadian papers and the True Witness are all the time at work urging the people to return their full numbers at the census now about to be taken, assuring them that upon their number will depend not only the amount of public money they will get, but the permanence of their language, their religion and their laws. We should be agreeably disappointed if the population of some of the French parishes did not count up, as some of the English parishes at Allay's election. If Upper Canada retaliates, we may find our country nearly as populous as the United States.

DISPENSERED ARRIVAL.—The chronicle of the Court news at the present State Government is a mass of court news. The Chronicle—announces under this title the advent of Mother Ellen—celebrated for her orange, apple, ginger, nut, and matters and things to general readers—is in the lobby of the Parliament house; and she is as well known to members as they are to one another. Both Opposition and Ministerial patronize her; and she is supposed to be deep in the secrets of the Council Chamber, what may be her early arrival indicated!
